

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY (OHS) POLICY

Since its inception, CONACON Sando has regarded Occupational Health & Safety (OHS) as a core principle in its operations, making it a fundamental priority within the organisation. This commitment drives the continuous improvement of preventive measures, with the ultimate goal of ensuring safe and healthy working conditions for all employees and collaborators. This philosophy is reflected in our Prevention Policy, which is based on the following key principles:

- A leadership-driven management approach that integrates OHS into all processes and levels of the organisation.
- Rigorous analysis and implementation of measures aimed at eliminating hazards and reducing risks, including identifying the root causes of workplace incidents and accidents to apply the necessary corrective actions.
- Full compliance with legal requirements, as well as any additional OHS commitments undertaken by the company and those linked to our compliance management system.
- A strong commitment to the continuous improvement of the OHS management system.
- Encouraging consultation and participation of employees in all OHS matters.
- Coordinating and integrating collaborators and suppliers into the development and implementation of the OHS management system.
- Adapting the OHS system to technological advancements.

To implement this Prevention Policy, CONACON Sando's senior management establishes clear objectives at all organisational levels. Achieving these objectives is ensured through the active involvement of all employees, along with the clear assignment of responsibilities across all levels and activities.

Signed: Jorge A. Gámiz Pérez
General Manager of Conservation, Maintenance and Energy